The Aspen Institute named San Jacinto College a Finalist with Distinction – ranking the College as one of the top community colleges in the nation in 2025. Previously, the College has been recognized as a Finalist in 2019 and 2023, a Rising Star in 2017, and a Finalist with Distinction in 2021.

The Aspen Prize is the nation’s signature recognition of community colleges that are achieving high and equitable outcomes for students. The finalists represent the amazing potential of the more than 1,100 community colleges across the country as engines of prosperity and social mobility. San Jacinto College has distinguished itself in innovative instructional and student support strategies and leads the nation in Hispanic student degrees, the use of data collection and analysis, and workforce and economic development.

ACADEMIC REGALIA

The academic regalia worn today originated in the universities of the Middle Ages, when a warm gown and hood were useful for scholars and students in unheated buildings. Before the Civil War, students at most U.S. universities wore caps and gowns daily while in residence. These varied in design until the American Intercollegiate Commission standardized them in 1895. At that time, it was decided that all robes would be black.

Bachelor gowns are made of worsted fabric with long, pointed sleeves; master gowns are made of silk with long, square sleeves with slits at the elbow; and doctoral gowns are made of silk with long, flowing sleeves. Doctoral gowns carry three velvet chevron bands around each sleeve above the elbow, and the gown is faced with black velvet from hem to neck and back.

Hoods are made of the same materials as the gowns, the length varying with the degree. The border of the hood indicates the academic discipline in which the degree was earned, and the lining of the hood indicates the college or university from which the wearer received the degree.

Although some universities have decided to adopt their own distinctive gown design, little has changed in the standard colors that represent the broad academic disciplines.

Usual colors for hoods are:

Brown - Architecture and Fine Arts

White - Arts and Letters

Light Brown - Business Administration

Lilac - Dentistry

Copper - Economics

Light Blue - Education

Orange - Engineering

Peacock Blue - International Affairs

Purple - Law

Lemon Yellow - Library Science

Green - Medicine

Pink - Music

Apricot - Nursing

Olive - Pharmacy

Dark Blue - Philosophy

Sage Green - Physical Education

Gold - Science

Citron Yellow - Social Work

Scarlet - Theology
